IN SEARCH OF A FARM.

The following little story will amuse real estate agents, they have so many customers of the same sort: A tall man with crape on his hat, called at a real estate office saying he wanted a farm. He would pay MANKIND'S MISTAKES MADE MANIFEST. cash for it—providing he could get one to suit him. He was politely conducted to a seat and the register of description of properties for sale hastily brought out for inspection. The stranger remarked:

"What I want is a farm of about three hundred acres." "I've got it," replied the real estate agent.

"I'd like about six hills on it."

"Here she is! Here's a farm with exactly six hills on it." "And I'd like a lake near the center. "And I want a natural cavern in one of the hills." "Here you are. There's a cave on this farm which can't be beat."

The stranger drew a long breath and went on : "I want a farm of 300 acres; but 100 must be marsh land." "Here she is!" was the reply.-

Just one hundred in marsh land." "I must have a waterfall 26 feet high on the farm," he continued. "Here you are! This farm has a natural waterfall of 25 feet and 11 inches. An inch more or less would make uo difference, I suppose?" "Well, no; but I want a windmill on one of the hills."

"That was put up last year," was the reply.

"There must be a Baptist church right across the road from the "One built there last year."

"It must be a brick church." "So it is."

"Has it an organ?" "It has."

"Then I can't buy the farm," said the stranger, rising to go. If there is anything I hate, it is a church organ and you can see for yourself I would be in continual misery. The farm suits me first rate, but I can't go that church organ." And he left.

We don't owe any allegiance to any one house to supply us with clothing for our trade, to se used by them as scavengers to feed us and our costomers on what they can't sell; and while any other house may claim to manufacture their own clothing, the fact of selling a better class of goods for less money, backed up with

THE certificate of Drs. Craik and Dick, the physicians who attended George Washington at the time of his death, has just been unearthed from a Georgetown newspaper of 1799. It does not appear in any of the biographies of Washington. The certificate concludes thus: "He was fully impressed at the beginning of his complaint, as well as though every succeed ing stage of it, that its conclusion would be mortal; submitting to the seveml exertions made for his recovery rather as a duty than from any expectations of their efficacy. He considered the operations of death upon the system as coeval with the disease; and several hours before his decease, after repeated efforts to be understood, succeeded in expressing a desire that he might be permitted to die without interruption. During the short period of his illness, he economized the time in the arrangement of such few concerns as required his attention with the utmost serenity, and anticipated his approaching dissolution with every demonstration of that equanimity for which his whole life has been so uniformly and singularly conspicuous."

Greatest Remedy Known.

Greatest Remedy Known.

Dr. King's new discovery for Consumption is certainly the greatest medical remedy ever placed within the reach of suffering humanity. Thousands of once hopeless sufferers, now loudly proclaim their praise for this wonderful discovery to which they owe their lives. Not only does it positively care Consumption, but Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Hay Rever, Hoarseness, and all affections of the Throat, Chest and Lungs yield at once to its wonderful curative powers as if by magic. We do not ask you to buy a large bottle until you know what you are getting. We therefore earnestly request that you call on your druggist Hubbard & Swearingen, and get a bottle free of cost, which will convince the most skeptical of its wonderful merits, and show you what a regular one dollar size bottle will do. FLOM "TEMPERANCE."

EDITORS REPUBLICAN:-Having, as hoped, started a discussion of the question of license or no-license on its merits, as viewed by temperance people, I had proposed to retire from the field, but Dr. Goodwin so palpably begs the question in his "Facts" of yesterday, issue. The terrible evil, and wrong of intemperance does not enter into this discussion. We agree, perfectly, on that point. The efficiency of the present police force of Decatur is not the question. (And just here let me say that the Dis-facts in that respect seem to me "too funny for anything." In the first place, he gives the number of arrests for drunkenness in the last 32 months, time and giving the statistics for the charges the police with neglect of duty in not arresting all the drunkards. that a great deal of whisky is drank in Decatur were the police more efficient in that respect.) Again the Doctor begs the question, when he contrasts the the present winter with the corresponding months of last year. Every one the mild winter have greatly reduced the panperism of the entire country.

The "facts" I have asked the Doctor and all other men interested in the to inquire into, are: Is there less intemperance now than before the days of no-license. The Doctor claims that no-license has not had a fair test for want of time, and from the inefficiency and how large a police force, however efficient, it would take to watch them? Will he tell us how many druggists are investigated." getting rich from the increased sales of stimulating medicines? Will the Dector try to find the ratio of the in-

Concerning the "mild winter and next summer's crops," the New York Herald expresses the opinion that the barometric depression which has prevailed more or less in the west and northwest since last October, though small, ought not to escape the notice that I must in self-defense restate the of our meteorologists, as its continuance will have great influence in determining the winter rainfall over the trans-Mississippi grain growing region, and consequently of the agricultural yield next summer." Champaign Gazelle. Why are the opposition newspapers in this district so earnest in their advocacy of a new man instead of the renomination of Mr. Cannon? Do they intend to support the Republican nomince provided Mr. Cannon is defeated ? Are they anxious to get Mr. Cannon out of the way because they honestly believe that he does not represent the sentiments of a majority of the people of this district on most if not all the political, financial and other questions that come up before congress, or do they recognize the fact that Mr. Cannon is the strongest opponent that their candidate will have? We never believe in accepting counsel from an enemy; it does not stand to reason that it is given disinterestedly. Would the Democrats and Greenbackers advise the Republicans to put up a candidate whom they knew would defeat them? By no means, and it is readily to be seen that their object in petting a rival candidate is solely in hope of creating dissensions in the Republican party and consequent desertion or apathy, so that they can sweep the board. The scheme will not work. While there may be an honest difference of opinion as to who should represent this district yet when the convention is over all differences will be healed and every Republican will work for the nominee, be he Mr. Cannon or

John V. Farwell, of Chicago has sent word to Senator Blaine that he can seoure the Illinois delegation at Chicago, and that state will not cast its vote for Grant if a proper effort is made by Blaine's friends. A prominent Illinois republican said to day that Farwell had a representative here now, trying to arrange with Blaine for the vote of Illinois in the Chicago convention, and that Farwell wants to control the patronage of the state if Blaine is nominated and elected.

Senator Randolph tried to get the senate to consider Fitz John Porter's ease to day, but General Logan protested, and it was finally arranged that the bill be made the special order for Monday next.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 - Senator Conking, in answer to a question whether the Sherman-Moulton letter in any way represents his sentiments, said to day I do not know Mr. Moulton, and have had no conversation with either him or Mr. Sherman. There is no one in New York authorized to speak for me. A great deal of canarding is being done just now in order to injure Gen. Grant, but I do not think it will succeed. If they can make people believe I am not for General Grant, and for some one else, they may succeed in making it appear that nobody is for him." This positive denial ought to set at rest all speculation in regard to the statement of the Moulton letter, which has for the last few days been the subject of so much discussion here. SPRINGFIELD, ILL., Feb. 11.-About fifty chairmen of Republican county committees of this state will meet here at 2 o'clock this afternoon, Every fellow seems to fear that every other fellow is trying to elevate a boom for somebody, and the fact that the callers of the meeting are all for Grant imparted tone to the statement that the boom was to be a Grant boom. It is not probable that an effort will be made to express a preference for any one, as it might act as a boomerang.

At a caucus of gentlemen, supposed to be for Blaine or Washburne, it was decided to oppose the indersement of any candidate for president, governor or anything else. The only candidate for public favor likely to get a send off is Dan Ray's Stalwart, a Grant organ.— Dan is for his Stalwart first, and for Grant second.

The meeting of county chairmen will be perfectly harmless politically, and be Seventeenth day of April, A. CENTRALIA, Feb. 11 .- A vote taken among the prominent republican voters of Centralia to-day shows a preference for Grant for president as follows: Grant 31, Washburne 24, Blaine 22; total 77. We find the following interesting paraagraph of railroad news in the Indianapois Journal of the 11th instant: "The rumors afloat to the effect that Jay Gould is figuring to get hold of the Indianapolis, Decatur and Springfield road, are pronounced groundless by H. B. Hammond president. Both the stock and bonds are held by a few persons, and, so to speak, it is a family property, and neither member of it is inclined to dispose of their security, at least while the prospects of the road are so flattering. Mr. Hammond states that the I., D. & S. will work harmoniously with the Wabash and all other connections, so long as said connections THE popular nickel "Telephone" cigar | act on the square, but the road was built can be had only at W. C. Armstrong's more especially as a local road, consequently the management have concluded to make no arrangement with any particular fast freight line to run over it, but will treat all alike who choose to do business on the road, and should the lines, when cars are scarce, draw off of this road, the company have the funds to erect an elevator at this point, and with this built their present equipment of box cars would enable them to do a heavy business. Further, Mr. H. thought the management, regardless of the action of the fast freight lines, would build a for the defendant. $50,000 elevator at this point to use when business is heavy."

The series begins with the creation of light, and goes on with the creation of man, his sin, its punishment in the Deluge, Noah's rescue, and so alternating between sin and grace, till it all culminates in the Last Judgment, which forms the Altar Piece. The Fall of the Rebel Angels was designed for the opposite end, but was never painted. In the corners of the ceiling are the four repent," "David and Goliath," "Esther and Judith" and "The Crucifixion." In niches between the windows are twelve prophets and sybiis, looking forward to the coming of Christ. These colossal figures, which, if they were standing, would be eighteen feet high, are murvels of grundeur and simplicity. Over the windows are groups of ancestors of Mary, looking with longing for the coming of the Redeemer. The walls of the chapel are seventy-five feet in height, and three of them are divided into three horizontal sections. The upper section is filled with statues of Popes, and the second with statues of Popes, and the second with different great paintings by the Masters. Case Wheeler's Misfortune

This morning we received a letter from South Bend, Ind., sent by Mr. George W. Baker, residing at that place. Enclosed we find the following account of a very distressing accident which overtook Cass Wheeler, son of ex-Sheriff Wheeler, of this county, on the morning of the 10th instant. The clipping is from the South Bend Evening Register of the 10th:

Bend Recning Register of the 19th:

Cass Wheeler, one of the employes of the Telephone company, met with a distressing accident at 10½ o'clock this morning, while at work in the vicinity of the Grand Trunk depot. He had climbed one of the old 25-foot poles to remove the wire to the new pole, and when the men below pulled the wire away the pole broke short off at the bottom and fell to the ground, carrying the unfortunate man with it. He struck across the railroad track and both of his legs were broken just above the ankle. He was placed in a hack and carried to his room at the Oliver House, where Dr. Kettring, Dr. Ham and Dr. J. C. Miller attended him. Both bones of the right leg were broken the struck and the control of the right leg were broken. Same vs. same; appeal; certified from circuit court; same plea as above.

What Eminent Physicians Say.

is from the Brooklyn Daily Times:

"Mrs. Balch has unusual emotional power, and her portrayal of the conflicting feelings of love, scorp, fear and remorse, stamp her as an actress of great natural ability. Her voice is strong, but well under control, and her acting is both graceful and easy. Her rendition of "Kentucky Belle" was one of the finest performances on the programme. Mrs. Balch is petite, young and pretty, and her vivacity in lively selections makes her readings very fascinating."

Eighteen hundred and seventy-nine will long be remembered as the time when all kinds of business and financial prosperity seemed to spring into new life. Merchants are finding plenty of ready customers for their wares, mechanics meet with ready employment at fair wages, and the farmers are receiving advanced prices for their products, and it is acknowledged by all that in no-part of our country are the evidences of presperity and comfort so marked as along the entire line of the "Old Reliable" Hannibal & St. Joseph
